The Jesuit Case.

MONTREAL, 15.—Judge Lorranger gave judgment in the motion of the attorney for the Jesuits to strike out certain portions in the "Ain"-glen. He ordered that all the pleas be struck out except that relating to the constitutionality of the act which should be allowed to go ahead. This is quite a victory for the Mail people as their principal object was to secure the right to fight the constitutionality of the act and thus they gained.

Yukon Fishermen Make a Scandalous Statement.

OTTAWA, 15.—The department of customs is informed by the sub-collectors at Antigonish, N. S., that a number of American trappers recently put into that port, the crews of the fishing boats are a scandalous bunch. On the 25th ult., some of the crew went on shore and visited the home of Thomas Donovan, light-house keeper. They brutally maltreated him also committing other outrages.

The Chinese Headed Arrested.

VANCOUVER, 18.—Yesterday afternoon Chow Ah Young, the member of You Kien, the young Chinese woman who was committed on Fingard street last Sunday evening, was captured at the American Hotel and on being taken to the lock-up, he was found to be a Chinese. He was a native of Quebec and only 28 years old. Died on Duty.

QUEBEC, 16.—The most disastrous fire that has visited Quebec for several years broke out about midnight and has already destroyed a great part of St. Sauveur, partly because there was another fire in St. Roch at the time and partly because the people of St. Sauveur have always refused to pay the necessary taxes for the introduction of proper water works. Neither the volunteer firemen of the place nor the Quebec city brigade, who were sent to their assistance, were able to cope with the devouring elements. The fire spread with exceptional velocity amongst the wooden buildings of which the quarter is principally composed, sweeping out of existence nearly all the buildings comprised between the Parish Church, the extreme western limits of the municipality and the river St. Charles. Hundreds of poverty stricken families are homeless and are camped out on the outskirts of the town under a drizzling rain. About two o'clock the men of "B" Battery, R. C. A., under Lt.-Col. Montezambert, marched down from the Citadel to aid in extinguishing the fire. After heroically working at the blazing heaves they determined to try blowing up some of the buildings in order to prevent the fire spreading further. After blowing up two or three successfully they tried another, but by some mishap the keg of gunpowder exploded while Major Charles Short and Sergeant William Wallack were still in the building. The bystanders were horrified to find the burning debris had completely buried the two unfortunate. Every possible effort was made to recover the bodies and Sergeant Wallack's, all but lifeless body, was soon extracted bathed in blood, his right foot and arm and the bones and muscles of his arms laid bare, while almost all the skin was torn from his body which was terribly begrimed by the powder. The Major's body was covered to such a depth by a mass of wood enveloped in flames that it was impossible, despite the strenuous efforts made by the men, to recover it. Sergeant Wallack was a universal favorite amongst the men and occupied the post of riding master to the battery. It was truly pitiable to see the officers and men break down when they understood that their beloved major was no more. Capt. Farley wept like a child and Captains Fergus and Rutherford were almost overwhelmed with grief, while the men stood round in groups with their arms folded and tears in their eyes, hardly able to comprehend what had happened. Major Short's body was not recovered till nearly ten o'clock and then more than half cremated. Mr. Short is in Kingston.

Princess Louise's Sympathy.

QUEBEC, 18.—Correct estimates of the number of buildings destroyed at St. Sauveur is impossible to obtain, but it is believed to be not less than 500 or 700, the value of the property destroyed is placed at $200,000 with insurance not more than $200,000. The story of the discovery of Major Short's body is related in the extreme. Sergeant Wallack was to have been married next week. He was a native of Quebec and only 28 years old. Colonel Rhodes received a cable despatch from the Princess Louise and Lord Lorne expressing their grief and asking that a search be placed on Major Short's coffin.

the city clergymen, aldermen, civil officials and prominent men and a long line of carriages. Among the floral tributes, which filled a carriage and were most appropriate, was one from Lord and Lady Stalev.

Travelling Like Princes.

WINNIPEG, 15.—A special train conveying Mr. Webb, Vanderbilt's son-in-law, and a party of New Yorkers arrived at 4:30 this morning and left shortly after for Vancouver, where they will take a special steamer to Alaska. They travel in an elegant train of Wagner cars. They expect to reach Victoria Friday night.

Hon. A. G. Hannatyne Dead.

WINNIPEG, 20.—News was received yesterday of the death in St. Paul en route to Winnipeg of Hon. A. G. Hannatyne, one of the oldest and most respected pioneers of the Red River district. He was a member of the city council, legislature and the House of Commons for various periods and for some time a member of the Northwest Council. He came to this country in 46 and took part in the troubles of 70. The body will be brought here for burial today.

The Quebec Horror.

QUEBEC, 17.—Yesterday's fire is the sole topic of conversation in town. Sergeant Wallack was blown clean through the roof. Major Short's body, was recovered later. One leg and one arm had been torn from the body by the explosion and were found at some distance from the trunk. The rest of the body was shattered into a thousand fragments. The total loss is $600,000. The Dominion Government has placed the new armory and old court house at the disposal of the victims of the fire. Premier Mercier and several other gentlemen have visited the scene and supplied the poorer people with food. Fully 500 homes were burned and 800 families are homeless.

Anti-Jesuit Movement in Montreal.

MONTREAL, 18.—The committee appointed at the recent anti-Jesuit meeting met last night, when sub-committees on finance, law, literature and organization struck, and Dr. Leo H. Davidson was appointed permanent chairman. It was determined to solicit subscriptions from the citizens for the purpose of carrying on the agitation, to consult legal counsel as to the best means of testing the constitutionality of the act and to disseminate anti-Jesuit literature through the country. A delegation of fifteen was appointed to attend the convention at Toronto next month. The committee decided that they should follow the example of the Jesuits and act secretly.

A Lively Vespere Meeting.

OTTAWA, 15.—A lively adjourned vespere meeting was held at St. Bartholomew's last evening. This is the church attended by the vic-regal household. Capt. Colville, A. D. C., was present. The rector is Rev. E. A. W. Hannington, son of Hon. Mr. Hannington, of Nova Scotia, the oldest politician in Canada, who has just died. After a complimentary address, signed by 136 members, had been presented to the rector, Dr. Bell handed a bill of complaint to the rector, which was signed by seventy members protesting against the increase of ritualism in the church and specifying the objectionable parts of the ritual. The rector said he would read it in private, but Dr. Bell retorted that he shouldn't pretend ignorance of the contents, because he had been furnished with a copy two days ago. The upshot of the excited discussion was that Hannington promised to make a statement to the congregation.

The Horrible Chinese Murder at the Coast.

VICTORIA, 13.—One of the most deliberate, atrocious and diabolical murder ever recorded in the annals of British Columbia was committed last night about 11 o'clock. A young Chinese woman, hardly 16 years of age, named Yow Kum, in the usual process of slave dealing was bought in China a couple of years ago and brought to this city for the purpose of being used in the form of a slave, to be a slave of the most brutal kind. In the course of her former journey, she made the acquaintance of a Chinaman who by various pretences and promises enlisted more of her affections than any other. She, however, in some scheme or other, he procured a quarrel with the unfortunate girl yesterday, ending with the ominous words: "You'll pay dearly for this tonight." Not realising the full intent of the threat or not sufficiently valuing the woman looking to it, she took her seat as usual in the dark, dimly lit house with her head propped up on the pillow, which usually was in the window of houses of that class.

Thirteen Thousand Dead.

ROME, 15.—Count Antonelli, leader of the Italian mission to the King of Siam, telegraphs that of the fight between the Abyssinians and the Derwishes, legendary stories are afloat. The Abyssinians were victorious on the first day. The Derwishes were wounded and killed. The Abyssinians never heeded the Derwishes' threats. On the second day, after prodding the Derwishes with their spears, they killed them. The Derwishes were wounded and killed. The Abyssinians never heeded the Derwishes' threats. On the second day, after prodding the Derwishes with their spears, they killed them.

waited for the wanted callers. At the hour named above, quick as a flash of lightning the figure of a man made its appearance and almost simultaneously with this act the head of the poor girl was all but completely severed from her body; there being but just enough of the neck left by which the head was suspended over the little wicket. Death must have been instantaneous and the act also must have been exceedingly quiet as at the time it was committed, the owners of the girl, a man and a woman, were in the house quietly smoking opium.

FACTS are FACTS,

and when the statement is made that Puttner's Emulsion of Cod Liver Oil never fails to give good results a fact is stated. I have great pleasure in announcing that I have been appointed for this celebrated preparation.

The substances which enter into the composition of the preparation known as "PUTTNER'S EMULSION OF COD LIVER OIL" are:—

Cod Liver Oil, Hypophosphite of Lime, Hypophosphite of Soda, and Pancreatine. Each of these substances contains certain medical properties, some resembling, others differing from each other, but in every case the article has been chosen for some quality which particularly fitted it for the one purpose kept constantly in view by the inventor of the Emulsion, namely:—to offer to the public a remedy for CONSUMPTION, SCURVY, and other wasting diseases, which, while it contained a large percentage of COD LIVER OIL, would present the first in such a form that the most refined taste or delicate organization would not be offended by it. Having succeeded in fulfilling this object, he then sought some remedy which would assist in the digestion of the Oil, and thus make it more readily assimilated in the system, and solve the cause of the Pancreas or Sweetbread was added. Finally, that the nerve centres might be stimulated to a healthy condition, and that through them the digestive organs might be brought into a sufficiently healthy state to act upon the food thus artificially prepared, PHOSPHORUS in the form of Hypophosphites was added, to strengthen the system at large, and particularly those parts of it which are called the nervous and digestive systems.

ADVICE TO MOTHERS.—and you should not let a child and his mother be a week without a bottle of Invertavish. It will relieve the poor mother's anxiety and give her a healthy child. There is no mistake about it. It cures colic and diarrhoea, regulates the stomach, and gives the child a healthy appetite. Mrs. Winkler's testimony is in evidence in the following: "I have used Invertavish for my child for several years, and it has been a great help to me. It has cured my child of colic and diarrhoea, and given him a healthy appetite. I have used it for my child for several years, and it has been a great help to me. CALGARY BOARD OF TRADE.

While it is decidedly disappointing to contemplate the failure to reorganize the Calgary Board of Trade last evening, on account of the small attendance of members, there is a ray of hope in the fact that the unburied carcass of what was once a valuable institution, after a long death like slumber, evinces enough life to make an effort to get on its feet again. It is sincerely to be hoped that the effort will be successful, for it is not merely local interests but the whole trade of the Territories that suffers for want of an influential Board of Trade in the principal business centre of the country. We have no patience with those who claim that the usefulness of the Calgary Board of Trade departed when the town was incorporated. True the old Board of Trade performed many of the functions rightly belonging to a municipal council, and the Macleod and other local Boards in the Territories perform such duties still. Because Calgary is an incorporated town, however, it does not necessarily follow that there is nothing for the Board of Trade to do. Look at the enormous amount of good work done by the Boards of Trade of Montreal, Toronto, Quebec, Hamilton and other eastern cities! Here in the Northwest there is the very best of reasons why we should have active efficient Boards of Trade. The business of the country is yet to be established, and if it is to be established on a firm basis the business men of the country must unite to accomplish the object. If reorganized on a proper basis there is no reason why the Calgary Board of Trade should not be made a body to which the government will be confidently able to look for advice on matters affecting the trade and progress of this country. Such an institution would be of great assistance to the government and of inestimable service to the country.

ALBERTA HORSE RAISERS' PROSPECTS.

Alberta horse raisers have good cause to share with their Montana friends feelings of satisfaction over the successive victories of the Montana horse Spokane over the best horseflesh which the United States can produce. There is only an invisible line dividing Montana from Alberta and both climate and soil in Alberta are superior to those of Montana. The other day the HERALD had occasion to refer to the shipment from Calgary to Manitoba of a band of horses bred by an imported Montana stallion and it was pointed out that the Alberta offspring of the Montana horses were in every case from one to two hands higher than either their sire or dam. Both Alberta and Montana are young countries, with Alberta much the younger and they have as yet not had much chance of proving their superiority as horse producing countries. This is not the first time that the laurels of speed have been accorded to Montana. The Sheridan stakes, one mile and a quarter, at Chicago, in 1886, was won by the colt, Montana Regent, in a contest with Silver Cloud, the winner of the Derby. The following year the Montana nag beat Lucky B. winning the Louisville cup, on two and a quarter miles.

There can be little doubt but that in a few years Alberta will make a mark as Montana is doing and it should not surprise any who have given the matter any thought, to learn some of these days that an Alberta horse has carried off the championship of the continent. With the large number of high bred stallions and well selected mares in the country a flyer must soon be produced, and when Alberta makes her reputation she will retain it. It is doubtful whether a finer stable of stallions than that at the Quorn Ranch, consisting of nine perfectly bred animals, two of them prominent prize winners on the English turf, exists on the continent, and this is only one of many Alberta ranches.

Thanks to the valuable importations of standard horseflesh into the country and also in the recent natural advantages of Alberta as a horse producing country the time will come when the east will look to this country not only for its flyers but for standard bred stock to breed the best horses at home.

WHAT WE SHOULD LOSE BY ANNEXATION.

The Great Falls (Montana) Tribune says: "It is now Canada's turn to enter the Union. Little Rhode Island hesitated and was not exactly in the United States that inaugurated George Washington. But she came in after all. Now let Canada become part of this republican empire and not a British colony with uncertain rights and limited authority. Under the American flag Canada would become rich, powerful and influential. No senatorial committee would then dare whether Canadian railroad built cars crossed the border or not."

If Canada was a small side show of a country such as Rhode Island there might be some object for her to desire annexation to the United States; and there would probably be little hesitation about the matter. As it is, however, Canada is a larger country than the whole United States put together and Canadians believe has a grander future before her, for her progress has been steady and substantial, leaving nothing to be undone as is the case across the lines. As we are, we have our destiny in our own hands; if annexed to the United States we should simply place our future in the hands of the unscrupulous cliques of unpatriotic wirepullers who tyrannically use the machinery of the faulty republican form of government in the United States for their own selfish purposes. Instead of having certain rights, never attempted to be interfered with, and practically unlimited authority, we should, to secure annexation, have to resign our rights, our authority and our independence into the hands of the city rabble and Fenian cliques, who after all dictate the policy of the United States.

Canada is more powerful today as a British Colony than the United States backed by all the other unwieldy ephemeral republics in the world. Canadians would be the champion idiots of the universe if they imagined their country would be more powerful under the Stars and Stripes than under the Union Jack. Their idiosyncrasy would be sublime did they imagine that after the suggested change they would have as much say in domestic government, as much liberty as they enjoy now. Canadians have given more thought to this matter, evidently than our Montana contemporary.

ALBERTA A SUMMER RESORT.

Hotel men in Alberta have for some time been looking forward to the time when Alberta shall become the summer resort for the Northwest. We have here a country of sweet water, of rippling rivers and blue lakes swarming with trout. From a picturesque point of view no part of the vast country between the lakes and the mountains can begin to compare with Alberta. Banff, in Alberta has already a continental reputation as a summer resort; but almost every place in Alberta offers inducements to the summer tourists. In addition to the shooting and fishing and magnificent scenery, Alberta has the attraction of a mild, bracing climate, free from the oppressive heat of Assinibois and Manitoba. People who have lived in Calgary recognize its advantages as a place of summer residence and as a result we have seen several former Calgary families return to spend the summer here. It is to be hoped that in time Eastern Canadians will begin to look to Alberta as one of the places claiming attention as a summer resort. There is cause for satisfaction in the fact that some of the Eastern papers are devoting attention to the natural attractions of Western Canada. The Western Traveller of Winnipeg says:

"While the great plains of the Canadian Northwest are attracting to their fertile acres thousands of hardy settlers, the West is also becoming the resort of health and pleasure seekers during the summer months. A few years ago, its attractions were almost unknown, and with an unfortunate lack of transportation facilities were unapproachable without serious discomfort and inconvenience. The completion of the great Canadian transcontinental line has, however, changed all this, and now we find the eastern press patriotically lauding in the highest terms the many vine-clad spots and charming resorts of which Western Canada can proudly boast."

The Toronto Empire, in an article on summer trips, says: "Already many people in Eastern Canadian cities are beginning to reach some definite ideas of their prospects for summer travel. Europe, no doubt, will continue to receive a due share of attention. But it is probable that our far West will attract a larger number of tourists than in any previous season. To say nothing of the peculiar attractions of the prairies, there is the remarkable varied beauty of the National Park to delight the tourist, the rugged heights and prospects of the Rockies, and the even more beautiful scenery of the canyons beyond."

And the Ottawa Journal remarks that "the prospects are that less money will go into the treasuries of United States railroads and into those of their Canadian competitors in the tourist business than usual. The attractions of our Atlantic and Pacific coasts, and the wonders of our western land are beginning to be noticed abroad. There is an increasing desire to visit the national Park and the Rockies. The variety of climate and the changes of scenery to be found in Canada are nowhere surpassed. The places best worth seeing are easily reached and the expense is rather less than involved in equally attractive trips south of the line."

THE LATE MAJOR SHORT.

The news of the tragic death of Major Charles Short of the Regiment of Canadian Artillery, published in another column, will bring the profoundest regret to the hearts of many in Calgary. The Major was well known and honored by all Calgary men who took part in the suppression of the rebellion in the North in 1885. The men of "E" division N. W. M. P. recall the conspicuous heroism of the handsome, dashing officer who commanded "B" Battery at Cut Knife Hill. They remember the gallant major dealing death and destruction among the Indians from the Battery galling guns, away in advance of the main body of the troops, and it has passed into history how the same brave officer led a rush of artillerymen and policemen at the rebels, which was described as one of the pluckiest things of the day. Nor do the men of "E" Division forget the skill and pluck with which Major Short and Captain Rutherford with the miserable old seven pounders which Colonel Otter had foolishly insisted upon "B" Battery taking with them instead of their own nine pounders, covered the retreat of the force. In short at Cut Knife Hill, Major Short proved himself a true hero, and all those who had the privilege of observing his gallant bearing upon that occasion will regret his untimely end. The men of the Alberta Mounted Rifles and of Major Steele's Troop of Scouts remember Major Short as the ingenious and indefatigable officer who commanded the force of artillery consisting of picked drafts of "A" and "B" Batteries of the Regiment of Canadian Artillery which took part in the hunt after Big Bear north of the Saskatchewan, and which got its guns across muskegs and through forests, greatly to the admiration of the whole force. They also remember the Major as one of the leading spirits and most successful riders in the sports with which the monotony of camp life at Fort Pitt was relieved. The writer of this article had an acquaintance of many years with Major Short, from the time the two batteries of the Regiment of Canadian Artillery were brigaded at Battleford during the rebellion, until the breaking up of the expeditionary force, being a member of the same mess. He should consequently be able to speak with some knowledge when he expresses the belief that a braver man or better officer never donned Her Majesty's uniform. Major Short was the very best ideal of the British officer. Perfect in the technical knowledge of his profession, he was eminently suited physically and athletically to give the best of the men of "B" Battery that their major was the best soldier, the best gunner, the best rider, the best shot, the best rider, the best wrestler, the best boxer, the best swordsman, the best pistol shot and the best all round man in the Battery, and they were right. By the death of Major Short, the Canadian Regular service loses an officer who was in every respect a credit to it, and it is safe to say that his name will never be forgotten. There is the grim satisfaction left to his friends and admirers of knowing that the Major died as he often expressed his wish to do, doing his duty.

Major Short was the son of the late Hon. Judge Short, of Sherbrooke, Quebec.

ALL SORTS OF THINGS.

One of the most popular stock papers in Montana is the Montana Live Stock Journal. Its readers will remark that it has changed its title to "The Montana Farming and Stock Journal."

Stockmen are jubilant. The success of this spring's calf crop completely exceeds expectations. A leading rancher remarked to the writer the other day, "Not a head of stock died during the winter from lack of food or owing to exposure, and the increase of the breeding herds is practically a hundred per cent." Liberal members of the House of Commons who usually oppose the grant for the maintenance of the immigration agency at Calgary on the supposition that the institution is unnecessary, might learn a lesson if they were to visit Calgary just now and find that the accommodation of the immigrant shed is so overtaxed that tents have to be provided to shelter the newly arrived immigrants who are hunting land.

Information from the north appears to show that fresh demands of compensation for land are being made by the half-breeds of the Northwest. There are always white people ready to encourage the Metis in any demands they may make on the Government, not for the benefit of their race, but because they hope to get a large part of the plunder at second-hand. Any claim of this kind must be dealt with on its merits, if it has any; if it has none, it must still be dealt with prudently and with caution.

The result of the election in Compton yesterday is a bad blow to those who have been so loud mouthed in their opposition to the Government's course on the Jesuits bill. A purely Protestant constituency in the Province of Quebec and consequently directly interested in the provisions of the Jesuits bill has endorsed the Government's course by returning the conservative candidate by over 800 majority. What excuse will the fanatics in Ontario, who mind you are not directly interested, have for continuing their agitation?

A gentleman who has resided in several towns in the Territories remarks upon the pride the people of Calgary take in the Division of the Mounted Police in garrison, contrasting greatly with the feeling which exists in many towns in the Territories towards the police. The reason why the people of Calgary take a pride in "E" Division is simply that the men are a well behaved, soldierly lot of young fellows who never lose an opportunity of displaying their interest in town matters. Look at their prompt assistance in cases of fire in the town and at their willingness to assist town institutions as in the case of their recent benefit performance for the Calgary Institute. Calgary is fortunate in having in garrison the crack division of the force and the townspeople are proud of it.

Who is going to look after the excursionists coming here by the C. P. R. excursions from the Eastern Provinces? Somebody will have to do it if Calgary is to reap any advantage, and undoubtedly the proper body to take the matter up is the Board of Trade. If there is not enough life left in that body to organize some sort of a reception, a citizens committee should be formed. The Agricultural Society and the Town Council both show an inclination to assist; but there is no reason why either of these institutions, or both of them jointly, should bear all the worry and expense. The co-operation of the general public is necessary if a successful reception is to be arranged, and the arrangements should be made at once, for the early announcement in the East that the excursionists will be looked after on their arrival here will tend to induce many to come who otherwise would not.

The Edmonton Bulletin, Regina Leader and other papers are drawing attention to the petroleum supply in the Peace River district and are urging the government to make experiments with a view to hastening its development. Before the government goes to the expense of attempting to develop these remote wells should it not first devote some attention to the development of petroleum deposits known to exist in Alberta at reasonable distance from the railway. Experts have located petroleum wells in the Crow's Nest Pass, and the other day some Calgarians stumbled across a remarkable spring on the South Fork of Sheep Creek, only forty miles from Calgary which had all the appearance of being a rich petroleum spring, the black fluid ejected from the spring having the distinct smell of petroleum. The government might profitably employ one of its geological survey staff this summer investigating the petroleum beds of Alberta.

STOCK.

The Cattle Season.

LONDON, 16.—The Canadian cattle season is opening well. The "Lake Nipigon's" cargo of 800 head met with a ready sale, not a single beast being lost on the voyage. The idea prevails that prices here will be much higher than last season, but the Canadian trade refers to the enormous import of frozen mutton and beef and warns the Dominion exporters to avoid a speculative rush on stock.

The Pinto.

In an article headed, "On The Helena Track," the Montana Live Stock Journal of the 27th ult., has the following in reference to an old Macleod boy:—"One of the curiosities now on the track is a pinto pacer, named W. M. by Red Cloud, dam by Peters, the property of Tom Burns of Ft. Macleod. He is a veritable looking circus horse, but he can skip around the track in less than 2.30 all the same, and the boys are afraid of him. He will be entered in the free for all events. Burns also has a green mare which is a good trotter."—Macleod Gazette.

The Macleod Races.

It is a great pity that our northern sporting men clash with the Macleod meeting this spring. It is true that our horses do not amount to much, but there is the great satisfaction to owners of race horses and backers, of running under association rules, and being protected by the S. A. T. A., the only organized racing association in the Territory and it is a noted fact that any horses coming from a distance, provided that they can beat our race and favorites, can win all the money in the pool box. Calgary has the reputation of being able to produce some fast runners and trotters, but it seems that our Northern sporting friends are a little shy in competing with the horses owned and trained in this district.—Macleod Gazette.

Wild Horses in the Northwest.

A writer in the Philadelphia Times tells this story about the wild horses of the Northwest:

"In Northwestern Wyoming and northwestern Nebraska many bands of wild horses still roam as fearless and as fleet as in the days when the country was an unexplored wilderness. Now that the buffalo has gone here is big game to hunt. All through the west, ranchmen and cowboys have regularly organized parties to go out and kill off the wild stallions."

"The loss of mares sustained by horsebreeders has at last become so large that some measures must be adopted to reclaim mares stolen away by the wild stallion. In Colorado, Wyoming, southern Idaho and Nevada there must be some roaming at large fully 5,000 wild horses. Each stallion selects twelve consorts. If a band is large enough, they are divided into small lots of 12 mares and one stud."

"Occasionally a male is found wandering alone by himself but he is not a bachelor from choice, having been driven away by the stronger males. As far as possible these family relations are kept up, not in, held at an even dozen. An old hunter who had scoured the Big Horn and southern spurs of those monstrous piles from childhood once discovered far in the depths and beyond an almost impassable rocky barrier a beautiful basin, wherein was one poor old stallion and twelve beautiful mares. This old fellow, not able to hold his own against the younger and stronger males on the plains, had sought out this retreat and enticed a family of twelve to go with him."

"He was in closer, so to speak, keeping his family intact without fear of molestation, as the entrance to this horse Eden was evidently known to none of his rivals. He never left the stronghold, and never allowed any of his mates to wander away. Had he chosen a home on the plains, his family would no doubt have been stolen from him one by one."

Valuable Horses Cremated.

CYRILLIANA, KY., 11.—The stables of Capt. Moore have been burned, containing fifteen valuable horses, including Van Wilkes, valued at $15,000; Kentucky Hambletonian, $10,000; Twilight Wilkes, $5,000; Bourbon Bismarck, $4,500; Bismarck Pilot, $4,000; Star Bismarck, $3,500. The total loss is over $50,000.

A Family of Miniature Cows.

Lowndes county, Georgia, produces a little cow which is indeed a curiosity. It is the same distance in height, length and width, and is supported by legs not more than twelve inches in length. It bears the name of the guinea cow. The first were brought from Spain by an old Spaniard who came to this country before the war. The cow is very small and chunky, but it keeps rolling fat on almost nothing and is a splendid milker, on the average giving from three to three and a half gallons of milk a day. R. L. Stapler has a herd of fifty perfect little beauties. He disposes of young cows for $100 each, which almost equals the price paid for Jerseys. While their milk is not so rich as that of the Jersey, the people of Lowndes prefer the guinea.—Ex.

Table with 3 columns: Date, Wind, and Min. It contains weather data for November, December, January, and February, including wind directions and minimum temperatures.

the mercury ranged among the forties, while on the coldest of the February days the thermometer registered 40, and on five days out of the twelve temperatures of 50 degrees or more were recorded. These figures should convince the people that Alberta will never permit of toboggan slides, ice palaces or other non-productive Arctic sports. A Toronto paper commenting on this says:—There may be a difference of opinion between the Albertans and the Montreals on that subject; but still most people will not deprecate the chinook mildness of the far Canadian West, even though the superb glories of a Montreal carnival are enchanting.—Western Traveller.

The Revelstoke Smelter.
(From Monday's Daily.)

Now that the smelting syndicate has commenced operations in earnest at Revelstoke, a description of the plant may not be uninteresting. The main building will have a total length of 2-8 feet and a width of 36 feet, and in addition there will be an engine-room and sampling works. The engine for crushing and sampling is of 60 horse-power and can crush 150 tons a day. The engine will also be used for hauling up ore from steamboats. There will also be another engine to run the two furnaces. The reverberatory furnace is 16 by 40 feet and the water jacket smelter 36 by 72 inches, with a capacity of 60 tons every 24 hours. In the construction of the reverberatory furnace 80,000 bricks will be used. The smelter will be located on the banks of the Columbia, half a mile from Farwell and the same distance from the Revelstoke depot. The site has already been cleared, and men are now at work clearing the right-of-way for a half mile siding and will commence grading it at once. The bricks used in the furnace will be made on the west side of the Columbia, about a mile from Farwell.—Donald Truth.

STEPHEN and ATLANTIC AVENUE.

A 1,500 Mile Drive.

(FROM WEDNESDAY'S DAILY.)

Mr. Wm. Ford this morning started an outfit from Calgary on one of the largest tours ever made by a livery rig. This is a team conveying a traveller of the extensive Montreal firm of James O'Brien & Co'y., and it will cover a distance of 1,500 miles before returning to Calgary. The first part of the route will be to Edmonton, thence along the Saskatchewan, branching off to all the leading settlements in the valley to Prince Albert. From that town the trail across the prairie to Qu'Appelle will be taken and from there a direct route to Calgary will be followed.

Cricket Meeting Last Night.

(From Friday's Daily.)

There was a very good meeting of the cricketers at the new and elegant offices of Messrs. Pettit & Ellis last evening. There being about 40 gentlemen present, all of whom were enrolled as members and a full list of committees appointed of which the following is a list. Executive committee: Messrs. Ede, McQuinn, Grindlay and Hickling. Ground Committee: Messrs. May, Critchley and Beaufort. Match committee: Messrs. Critchley, May, Pettit, Smith and Prothero.

A bat will be given at the close of the season for the highest score. Practice nights will be Tuesday's and Saturday's. A match will be played with the N.W.M. P. on Saturday, May 24th.

Tom Burns in Montana.

(From Wednesday's Daily.)

Tom Burns arrived from Fort Macleod N. W. T., yesterday with a carload of race horses which he will put into training here for the coming turf events. Among the group is a very fine pacer. As Mr. Burns arrived at the Montana Central depot he was intercepted by United States Deputy Marshals Wheeler and X. Biedler, who are constantly on the alert for smuggled opium. Burns' car was thoroughly searched, but no trace of the drug could be found and the officials departed, not, however, until Mr. Burns had informed Col. Wheeler that he was not in the smuggling business now, but there was a time when he used to get in whiskey over the line when Col. Wheeler was revenue collector at Fort Benton, when he never "caught on."—Helen Independent.

The Governor.

(From Thursday's Daily.)

His Honor Lieut.-Governor Royal accompanied by his son-in-law, Capt. Gagnon of the N.W.M.P., and Mrs. Gagnon, arrived in town this morning and leaves for Edmonton, accompanied by Hon. Justice Rouleau tomorrow. Her day the Hon. Justice Rouleau to refer to the shipwrecked children are Col. W. H. Walrond, M. P., succeeds to the baronetcy; Mr. Arthur Walrond, who recently married Miss Coleridge, of Salton; and five daughters—Mrs. Treyle, Lady Clinton, Mrs. Acland, Mrs. Holbeck, and Mrs. Fellows. Sir John was best known in Canada, perhaps, as president of the Walrond Ranch company in the Northwest. The Devon and Exeter Gazette says of him: "While in public life Sir John Walrond was the friend of all, in private he gained the affection of everyone. His contemporaries at Blundell's and Oxford remember him for his consideration of others, and the quality which distinguished him as a boy was not lost in later years. Although the reverse of strongly built, yet he always took a keen interest in sport and outdoor pursuits. Sir John was not a hunting man, but he was a capital shot and a first class first fisherman. And very many residents of the neighborhood in which he lived will remember the pleasant days courting which was provided for the entertainment of all comers until within the last two or three years, when he disappeared from Bradfield as from any other estate. Sir John was a man of refined mind; he was something of a poet; and there were few more pungent writers of political satire."

Who will Receive the Excursionists.

(FROM THURSDAY'S DAILY.)

The following letter has been received from Mr. Hamilton, C. P. R. Land Commission, by Mr. J. S. Foshan, the company's agent in Calgary:

J. S. FOSHAN.

Agent at Calgary.

DEAR SIR,—The company intend to run excursions from Ontario on June 4th, 11th, and 18th, and from Quebec on the 6th, 13th and 27th June—fare for the round trip being—to Manitoba points $28, and to points in the Northwest Territories, west of Moosem 35.

As it has been found that these excursions are the best means of advertising the districts by the excursionists, you might bring the question of the reception of the passengers before representative men of your neighborhood, and see what they would be willing to do in the way of turning out, meeting the people and giving facilities for viewing some of the farms in the vicinity of your station, and let me know the result, as I wish to make arrangements.

Yours truly,

L. A. HAMILTON,
Land Com'r.

The Bishop's Trip North.

(FROM WEDNESDAY'S DAILY.)

The Lord Bishop of Saskatchewan and Calgary leaves tomorrow morning for a long pastoral trip through his immense dioceses. His Lordship will spend next Sunday at the Blind Man's settlement on the Red Deer River and the following Sunday at Edmonton. Leaving that place His Lordship will proceed by boat down the Saskatchewan to Prince Albert, calling at the various missions on the way. After spending a few days at Prince Albert, the Bishop will go on to Cumberland and Stanley, the latter of which places is the most remote mission of the diocese, 300 miles northeast of Prince Albert. After the return of His Lordship to Prince Albert from this place, the synod of the diocese of Saskatchewan will be held at Prince Albert. His Lordship's headquarters during the summer will be Emmanuel College, Prince Albert. At Battleford the Bishop will be joined by Archdeacon John Mackay who will accompany His Lordship throughout the rest of his long journey.

Sir John Walrond Dead.

(FROM WEDNESDAY'S DAILY.)

The death of one of the leading shareholders of the Walrond Ranch, the gentleman, in fact, after whom the ranch is named is announced.

The death of Sir John Walrond, Bart., took place on the 23rd of April, at Cannes, whither he had gone early in the winter for the benefit of his health. Sir John Walrond was the only son of Mr. Benjamin Bowden Dickinson, who married Frances, the daughter and co-heiress of W. H. Walrond, of Bradfield, who died in 1845, and was through the female line the representative of the family of the Walronds, in 1845, his eldest daughter and her husband Mr. Dickinson were authorized by Royal license to take names and arms of Walrond in lieu of Dickinson. Sir John Walrond's political career was a singularly unfortunate one. He first contested Tiverton in 1865, his opponents being Lord Palmerston and the Hon. George Deasman. His only success was the result of this contest; Lord Palmerston being returned at the head of the poll with 261 votes, Sir John Walrond took the second seat with 220, the Hon. John Deasman bringing up the rear with 107.

again in 1874, but lost to Mr. Deasman, but retained the seat in 1874, 1876, 1880, 1882, 1884, 1886, 1888, 1890, 1892, 1894, 1896, 1898, 1900, 1902, 1904, 1906, 1908, 1910, 1912, 1914, 1916, 1918, Sir John Lester Kaye in the City.
(FROM WEDNESDAY'S DAILY.)

Sir John Lester Kaye arrived here yesterday in his private car, Natica, accompanied by Lady Kaye. Sir John will proceed west to his farms in the Northwest today. He spent the winter in England, where he succeeded in securing the necessary capital to carry on his farming and colonization scheme. The organization is known as the Canadian Agricultural Colonization company, and Sir John has been authorized to spend $200,000 more in bringing out thoroughbred stock, chiefly sheep, to locate on the ten farms that have been laid out. The result of the undertaking so far has been satisfactory, so Sir John states.

The private car Natica was purchased by Sir John from the C. P. R. company for the sum of $10,000. The interior of the car has been reconstructed to suit his purpose and it is a model of comfort and convenience.—Winnipeg Free Press, 13.

Sir John Lester Kaye arrived in Calgary this morning from England via Montreal. He occupies his private car. The car is called "Natica" after Lady Kaye, who remains in London at present but will return here in a short time.

CALGARY CITY FATHERS.
(FROM WEDNESDAY'S DAILY.)

The regular fortnightly meeting of the council took place in the council chamber at 8 o'clock last evening. His Worship Mayor Marsh in the chair. All the members of the council were present.

The first business was the reading of a telegram from Mayor Grant, of Victoria, B.C., to Mayor Marsh informing him that an invitation had been forwarded by mail from the City of Victoria to the mayor and council of Calgary to visit Victoria on the Queen's Birthday, when a grand celebration of Her Majesty's birth day will take place. It was decided not to take any action on the telegram until the written communication has been received.

The general executive and finance committee reported in favor of paying the following amounts: On account of fire, water and light, James Casser $8; Calgary Cartage Co., coal, $34; John Brennan water at fire $8; Jarrett Bros. blacksmith work, $2.50; Frank Dick, lumber, $10.50. On account of public works: James Fraser, work on streets, $22; Frank Dick plank for sidewalk, $8.64. On account of police and relief: T. C. Power & Bro., $14.50.

His Worship presented an account for the cost of H. N. Rutten, C.E., of Winnipeg, coming to Calgary and making a report on the proposed water works scheme, amounting to $197.20. This amount was voted and is to be placed to the credit of Mr. Rutten in the Imperial Bank, Calgary.

Coun. King, chairman of finance reported that he had gone fully into the accounts between Mr. W. Ford and the town and recommended that the account be settled on the basis of granting Mr. Ford a license for his livery stable for this year, which he takes in payment of all claims. This account was chiefly for the hire of a team a year ago last March by the town to send out immigrants from Dakota to look up land.

Coun. Fitzgerald, chairman of by-laws, reported in favor of by-law No. 102 extending the fire limits up to the Registry Office and defining the limits generally. This by-law was passed through its various stages.

It was reported the sum of $954.50 had been paid in so far for licenses this year. A long report was read by coun. Fitzgerald in reference to licenses not paid. This report was referred back for further consideration.

Coun. King stated that he expected that the by-law would be printed by next meeting of the council.

Councillors, Murdoch and Fitzgerald introduced the subject of the C.P.R. cheap excursions advocating that something should be done in the way of caring for the visitors who may come to see our town and country in June. Councillors Grant and others spoke on the subject. It was finally resolved that the committee on immigration should communicate with the Agricultural Society on the matter and report.

His Worship explained in reference to water works that a full report had been made by Engineer Rutten, which the Water Works Co. want time to examine and that a special meeting of the council will likely be called in a few days to take the matter up.

The council then adjourned.

Calgary Baseball Club.

There was large turnout of members of the Calgary Baseball Club at practice last evening. The Anthracite battery who have been anxious to secure an engagement with the Calgary Club were present but did not do nearly as effective work as any of the Clubs own players. After practice a meeting of the club was held in the rooms of the Calgary Institute A. E. Shelton, Vice President in the chair. After considerable discussion, during which all of the leading players of the club expressed the opinion that without an imported battery could be procured it would be no use trying to play the other Territorial and British Columbia Clubs, which are largely made up of professional players, it was decided to procure the services of a first class battery from the east if the clubs funds would allow.

A committee was appointed to solicit subscriptions toward a fund to enable the club to place a good team on the field this season.

Mr. C. J. Geddes of Pincher Creek has arrived here with a fine band of general purpose and driving mares and Geldings. All are perfectly halter broken and gentle and most of them broken to saddle or harness. Among the lot are half a dozen fine teams broken to work. These horses all by imported horses out of Montana mares and are in every case from a hand and a half to two hands higher than the dams. Some of these horses will be sold here, and the rest shipped to Manitoba.

Mr. C. G. Geddes of Pincher who is in town today for the first time since 1883 says he felt completely lost when he crossed the Sheep Creek divide and found the trail all the way to Calgary confined to a fenced road running between farms supporting herds of fine stock and with large crops of wheat in. When he went south in '83 there were only two houses, Glen's and Mr. McMillan's between Calgary and Sheep Creek. He was also more than surprised to find Calgary, which he had left a canvas village, grown into a substantially built town with handsome stone business buildings.

Death of an Ontario Barrister.

Mr. F. A. Munson, Barrister of Coburg arrived at the Palace Hotel Calgary on Thursday night in seemingly good health. He was moving about town on Friday and on Saturday up to noon, with the view of locating here to practice his profession. On Saturday afternoon Mr. Fletcher Bredin an acquaintance of Mr. Munson's, wishing to see him went up to his room where found the gentleman feeling rather unwell but thought there was no need of medical aid. However Mr. Bredin did go for Dr. Lafferty who at once said that Mr. Munson was dangerously ill with inflammation of the lungs. As soon as it was known that he was ill, he was called on by E. R. Rogers, E. P. Davis, Rev. J. E. Betts and others. Mr. Bredin was incessant in his attention and care of the sick man. He continued to grow steadily worse and at noon Monday became unconscious and never rallied after, and finally breathed his last about 5:30 a. m. to day. Nelson Head who is a first class nurse waited on Mr. Munson from the time he became seriously ill, to the last. A brother of the deceased residing in Winnipeg was telegraphed to about his brother's illness who wired Dr. Lafferty to do every thing it was possible to do, which was done in accordance. The remains will be forwarded to Winnipeg by No. 2 express tomorrow morning.
